Nassau Coliseum

Nassau Coliseum, re-opened on April 5, 2017, with a concert by Billy Joel after an 18-month, $180 million renovation. The Coliseum offers 14,500 seats for basketball, MMA and boxing, 13,900 for hockey, up to 15,000 for concerts, and 4,500 seats for its theater configuration.

The venue's unique skin evokes Long Island's iconic imagery, such as beach dunes, dune fencing, decks, and boardwalks. The façade is made up of aluminum fins that pay homage to Long Island's history as the cradle of the aviation industry. Guest enhancements include a new exterior glass storefront to infuse natural light into the refreshed concourse, a redesigned main entrance, all new seating, improved bowl circulation, and revamped bathrooms and concessions. Fans have access to free high speed Wi-Fi, upgraded phone service for all major cellular carriers, and an enlarged high definition LED scoreboard. Sustainability fixtures include waterless urinals, LED lights, and all new windows and doors to provide improved thermal performance throughout the building.

The Coliseum first opened on February 11, 1972, with an ABA game between the New York Nets and the Pittsburgh Condors. With an initial capacity of 15,000, the arena occupied 63 acres of Mitchel Field, a former Army/Air Force base, and was built at a cost of $32 million. The arena was home to the Nets and New York Islanders and several other professional sports teams, in addition to hosting major artists and events such as Elvis Presley, Madonna, Bruce Springsteen, the NCAA Tournament and WWE before closing for renovations following a concert by Billy Joel on August 4, 2015.

2021-22 Highlights

The Long Island Nets finished their season 18-15, which ranked 10th overall in the NBA G League... The team featured two players signed to two-way contracts with the Brooklyn Nets, David Duke Jr. and Kessler Edwards... This season marked Head Coach Adam Caporn's first season with Long Island and the team's fifth Head Coach since 2016... Long Island guard Tyrone Wallace earned an NBA G League Call-Up to the New Orleans Pelicans, this marked the 10th call-up in Long Island Nets history... Local tryout player and Long Island forward Craig Randall II ranked ninth in the NBA G League in points per game (26.7)... Randall II and Coach Caporn became the player and coach duo to earn Player of the Month and Coach of the Month honors in franchise history... On April 1, 2022, Long Island clinched its second playoff berth in franchise history, then fell to Delaware in the First Round, 133-116.

All-Time Nets NBA G League Affiliations

LONG ISLAND NETS: 2016 – Present

The Brooklyn

Nets announced the rights to own and operate a NBA G League team, the Long Island Nets, on November 6, 2015. With the announcement, Brooklyn became the record 12th NBA team to fully own and operate its NBA G League affiliate. The 2016-17 season marked Long Island's inaugural season in the NBA G League.

FORT WAYNE MAD ANTS: 2014 – 2015

The Fort

Wayne Mad Ants served as Brooklyn's NBA G League affiliate for the 2014-15 season, while also serving as the affiliate for the Atlanta Hawks, Charlotte Hornets, Chicago Bulls, Denver Nuggets, Indiana Pacers, Los Angeles Clippers, Milwaukee Bucks, Minnesota Timberwolves, New Orleans Pelicans, Portland Trail Blazers, Toronto Raptors and Washington Wizards.

SPRINGFIELD ARMOR: 2009 – 2014

The Springfield

Armor, located in Springfield, Mass., was the Nets' NBA G League affiliate from 2009 to 2014. The Armor was the Nets' exclusive affiliate from the beginning of the 2011-12 season until the team relocated to Michigan as the Grand Rapids Drive following the 2013-14 season, with the Nets directly overseeing the team's basketball operations during that span. Prior to 2011, the Armor also served as the NBA G League affiliate for the New York Knicks and the Philadelphia 76ers.

COLORADO 14ERS: 2006 – 2009

The Colorado

14ers served as the Nets' NBA G League affiliate from 2006 to 2009. The 14ers played in Broomfield, Colo., and also functioned as the NBA G League affiliate for the Denver Nuggets and the Toronto Raptors. Following the 2008-09 season, the 14ers relocated to Frisco, Texas, to become the Texas Legends.

ROANOKE DAZZLE 2005 – 2006

Under a new affiliation and assignment system from the NBA, the Nets' NBA G League affiliate for the 2005-06 season was the Roanoke Dazzle. The Virginia-based team also served as the NBA G League affiliate of the Philadelphia 76ers and the Washington Wizards before the league announced that the NBA would no longer operate a team in Roanoke following the 2005-06 season.

Media Information

The Long Island Nets look forward to their 10th season in the NBA G League.

Long Island Nets media credentials are issued for the purpose of providing access to the media work room and media seating. Credentials must be visible at all times. At no time should a credential be used for autographs.

Individual game credentials should be requested a minimum of 24 hours prior to game time (and by noon on Friday for weekend contests). Credentials may be picked up two hours prior to tipoff at the Gate 5 security entrance, adjacent to Parking Lot 1.

Single-game photo passes will be issued in the same manner as other credentials. Newspapers and magazines on assignment may obtain passes by having the photo editor request a single game credential via email. Freelance photographers requesting credentials must submit a letter from the editor, with a specific assignment from an accredited publication. Single game photo passes are issued on a space available basis.

Limitations and guidelines for credential use appear on the back of your credential and on signs in the media work room. Please adhere to these regulations.

LONG ISLAND NETS BROADCAST TEAM

KEVIN DEXTER
Play-by-Play Announcer

Kevin Dexter is entering his 10th season as Long Island Nets play-by-play announcer. A veteran of Long Island and New York City sports media, Dexter has made stops as a sports anchor at WFAN, 1010 WINS and WCBS 880 radio, and News 12 Long Island and Westchester TV. Dexter is a 2013 graduate of Hofstra University and currently leads the Pride's broadcast department as their Assistant Director of Athletics for Broadcast Productions.

MATT ESTREICH
Analyst, Play-by-Play & Videographer

Matt Estreich enters his eighth season with the Long Island Nets. He shares play-by-play and color commentator duties, as well as working behind the scenes as a team videographer. A native of Long Island, he began his career as a sports producer in New York at News12, WPIX and SNY. He spent eight years on-camera as a sports anchor at local TV stations in Virginia. Matt graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 2006, where he studied electronic journalism.

DOMINIQUE PATRICK
Analyst & Sideline Reporter

Dominique Patrick is entering her second season with Long Island as a color commentator and sideline reporter. Patrick brings over eight years of broadcasting experience across NBC/Peacock, ESPN Networks, NBA TV, Amazon Prime and YES Network, and has worked as a television analyst for numerous conferences throughout her career. In addition to being a two-time Emmy Award winning Segment Producer at MLB Network, Patrick played college basketball at Grambling State and Brenau University. She discovered her love of broadcasting during her time at Brenau, where she spent three years in their Mass Communication program before attending S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications.

JONATHAN EDMOND
Analyst

Jonathan Edmond has seven years of broadcasting experience and returns for his second season as a color commentator with Long Island. For the 2024-25 Long Island Nets season, he called eight games on Long Island and four in Montreal during the team's extended series at Place Bell in Laval, Quebec. Edmond also worked as a play-by-play analyst for the Liberty's 2025 preseason games.
